Contemporary Challenges

Senior level marketers need to be able to identify the key influences on the future drivers of the organisation and match those with organisational resource to determine future direction.

This module will enable you to evaluate the potential impact of emerging contemporary marketing challenges and apply strategic thinking to develop future strategies.

Leading Change

A key aspect of a senior marketer's role is leading and managing change within an organisation. This module will enable you to meet the challenges of change by providing a platform for supporting future responses through harnessing organisational potential and sustainable innovation.

In addition you will develop an understanding of how the organisation's assets can be managed to build and sustain a clear market position to guide, support and implement market-led change within an organisation.

Consultancy

Senior marketers often gain experience across different organisational types and sizes over the course of their career, giving them a detailed insight into a range of marketing related issues and problems. This experience, within the heart of an organisation, can be developed into a consultancy role either within a large organisation linking in with key clients or as an independent consultant within a marketing specialism.

This module is designed to develop the skills required to build and develop client relationships in either of those scenarios.

Assessment by organisation based assignment

Managing Business Growth

Growth is a key driver within any organisation and developing both a structured and creative approach to determining where potential or existing opportunities exist is an essential skill for senior marketing professionals. The size, type and form of the organisation can help or hinder this process so an in depth knowledge of the complexities of the organisation and its context is critically important to facilitate decision making at the strategic level.

This module is designed to enable the marketer starting with a wider view of organisations to focus down onto a specific area - ideally the one they work in or interact with in their current role, and to facilitate solutions which maximise strategic fit.

It can be also delivered in one of two ways; either specific to an organisational type, e.g. B2B or SME organisations or as a generic module.

Endorsements by employers

I believe this new CIM postgraduate qualification represents a step-change in providing senior marketers with the knowledge, skills and confidence they'll need to thrive - not only in relation to modern marketing challenges such as personalisation, digital and data - but also around building the fundamental business and strategic skills which marketers need to prosper in forward thinking, customer orientated organisations across all sectors.

The revamp of the CIM level 7 qualification has been developed through close collaboration with employers, and as a result is a very practical and relevant qualification giving valuable skills to the individual and any marketing team they sit within.

Helena Barras Marketing Manager, Johnson Matthey

Modern, forward-thinking organisations will find that this qualification equips their marketing professionals with the means to strategically develop the business far beyond the realms of traditional marketing. As the highest level of qualification the CIM offers, it is a mark of quality and distinction that cannot be gained elsewhere.

Monique Eisenberg Marketing Manager

The professional qualifications are becoming ever more important in a rapidly changing business environment where marketing is increasingly at the centre of this change and requires an ever expanding skillset. CIM clearly recognises with this new qualification, the need to support marketing professionals by evolving its qualifications.
